by 2024

Paper Industry

India's share in the demand for paper across the globe were analyzed is growing, as the domestic demand is increasing at a steady pace. Growing manufacturing sector, requirement of better quality packaging of FMCG products marketed through organized retail and the demand for the upstream market of paper products, such as tissue paper, filter paper, tea bags, light weight online coated paper and medical grade coated paper are expected to drive the paper & paper products market in India in coming years. The per capita paper consumption in India at a little over 13 kg, is way behind the global average of 57 kg.

The paper and board industry in India is considering this transition phase as a great opportunity coupled with the challenge of providing affordable alternatives. Paper mills are conducting various trials to make paper and paperboard for the intended use, like carrying, wrapping, protecting, packing and holding as a container.

Under the baseline scenario, by 2024-25, domestic consumption is projected to rise to 23.5-million tpa and production to 22.0-million tpa. About one million tpa of integrated pulp, paper and paperboard capacity is required to be created in India on an annual basis over the current capacity to meet the growing demand.

India is the fastest growing market for paper globally and it presents an exciting scenario; paper consumption is poised for a big leap forward in sync with the economic growth.

Paper industry urges consumers to make eco-friendly choices

India has Largest number of Printing Presses
in the World

Paper Printing Industry

The Indian Paper Printing Industry, growing at a rate of 12% per annum, comprises more than 250,000 printing companies. The current annual turnover of Indian Printing Industry is worth of USD 12 Billion. India is the country with largest number of printing presses in the world.

In recent years, the printing industry in India has seen record levels of growth, owing to liberalised regimes, globalisation and progress in automation. The industry has grown leaps and bounds due to the latest technology and machinery, quality standards and production capacities. Also, when Indian government is encouraging foreign direct investment into this sector. Lot of global companies expected to invest in this sector due to favourable working conditions.

The digital printing industry is seeing significant transformations with new technologies & applications providing cost-effective and customized solutions. For the foreseeable future, offset and digital will not only co-exist, but will also complement each other-with offset taking the medium-to-longer jobs and digital performing on short-to-medium run lengths.

The booming Indian economy, increasing consumerism, entry of global brands in the country and opening of the sector to foreign investors are bound to offer growth opportunities to the industry.

Paper Packaging Industry

India's packaging sector is currently the fifth largest sector of country's economy. It is among the high growth industries in India, developing at 22-25% per annum. Fast-moving consumer goods and pharmaceutical are the major end users of the packaging industry. The growth of the Indian packaging industry is heavily influenced by changing demographics such as growing urbanization and the rising proportion of middle-class consumers. Paper packaging products play a significant role in the overall packaging sector in India. The Indian paper packaging industry is growing due to the rise in demand for better quality of paper packaging products, evolving consumer choices as well as shift towards eco-friendly & recyclable materials. In the coming years, rapidly increasing demand of paper packaging products is going to further soar mainly due to factors such as high urban population growth, rising disposable incomes and paper production in India are predicted to stimulate growth in the country's overall paper packaging industry.

“In fact, with India reinforcing its status as one of the fastest-growing paper packaging market, it is expected that paper consumption could grow over 50% to 20 million metric ton by 2020,” according to the report by Mordor Intelligence.

The Packaging Industry in India is expected to reach USD 103.32 billion by 2025, at a CAGR of 5% over the forecast period 2020 - 2025. The Indian packaging industry has made a mark with its exports and imports, thus driving technology and innovation growth in the country and adding value to the various manufacturing sectors.

Indian Packaging market to reach USD 34.24 billion by 2024, driven by the rising consumer demand for resource efficient and eco-friendly products

The Indian paper
Publishing Industry is set to evolve in newer directions

Paper Publishing Industry

The next big thing in India - Today Indian publishing is one of the greatest in the world and the country is counted among the top seven publishing nations. Increasing number of printers are now adopting newer and modern technologies adapting to the changing trend of new style of working. It ensures that consumer get the optimum quality products at bare minimum price. Going forward the booming Indian economy will be backed by literate population on the rise, increasing consumerism, entry of global brands in the country and opening of the sector to foreign investors would drive the growth in print requirement.

While the international publishing industry has almost peaked, book publishing in India is booming at a compound annual growth rate of 30%, there are over 16,000 publishers in India publishing in 22 official languages.

This robust growth in printing and publishing sector leaves a great opportunity for the Indian paper industry to grow at a pace which should be more than the GDP. Besides this the paper industry has also to match the needs of printing industry especially in terms of world class quality at competitive price and availability.

The global book printing market is anticipated to reach values of around $49 billion by 2024

An aerial, high-angle photograph of a large, dense crowd of people, primarily men in business attire, gathered at what appears to be a trade show or business festival. The crowd is spread across the entire frame, with individuals engaged in various activities like talking, looking at documents, or using mobile devices. The lighting is bright, and the overall atmosphere is one of a busy, professional event.
